Gamma Solutions now able to Provide LXE Repair Service throughout Australia

Gamma Solutions now an authorised LXE repair centre, greatly improving logistical options for customers.

Australia, December 2008 – Gamma Solutions, a leading Australia data capture systems designer, has announced that their comprehensive Service Centre is now an authorised LXE Service Repair Centre for LXE Hardware. Gamma Solutions will also be able to provide LXE repair services throughout Australia, courtesy of their wide network of engineers conveniently located in all capital cities.

The Gamma Solutions Service Centre and Australia wide service engineers will now also specialise in the repair and upgrade of LXE wearable computers, LXE cold storage rugged handheld computers, LXE scanners and LXE rugged wireless vehicle mounted computers.

The Gamma Solutions Service Centre will enable a streamlined process which will allow customers to successfully log all of their various LXE hardware repair requirements. One of the many benefits of this program is that all LXE hardware will be returned to customers 'ready to use', thus reducing significant levels of productivity downtime.

Qualified Service Engineers provide knowledge in all areas of technical support and are trained and experienced in repairing and configuring various types of LXE hardware. Gamma Solutions offer an on-site service in all major capital cities and maintenance service plans to ensure LXE equipment is always performing at an optimum level.

"Gamma Solutions is delighted to announce to our customers that we are now accepting LXE products for service and repair Australia wide." said Leo Sfinas, National Service Manager at Gamma Solutions Pty Ltd. "

“Over the years many of our potential customers had their LXE products repaired directly through LXE technologies, or even through some second hand dealers. With our own Service Repair centre now operating in Melbourne and with service engineers located in all major Australian capital cities, the logistics are greatly improved and we are able to provide the service to almost anyone in Australia’ continued Leo Sfinas.

Gamma Solutions is committed to providing all their customers with quality practical and flexible technology solutions. The announcement by LXE technologies that Gamma Solutions is now an authorised LXE repair centre will continue to help the company deliver their commitment to customers throughout Australia.
